

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

The Ripplebrooke Group is committed to satisfying the needs of our customers and consumers in an environment responsible manner when recovering, refining, beneficiation and trading of precious and base metals. This will be achieved through regular and continuous improvement of our environmental performance.

As a responsible citizen, The Ripplebrooke Group will take an active part in protecting the environment, demonstrated through:

- Working in cooperation with relevant government departments, members of industry, suppliers and customers, promoting high environmental standards in all aspects of our business
- Formal information and communication sessions, on a regular basis, with interested and affected parties
- Using legislative requirements as a minimum guideline to promote continual improvement towards environmental responsible compliance
- Setting of annual objectives and targets, which will be tested and reviewed regularly to ensure improvement, progress, compliance to legislation, other requirements and this policy
- Ensuring that measures are taken and implemented, to minimise the impact on the environment of our products and services, thereby promoting sustainable development and prevention of pollution
- Promoting employee and personal environmental awareness by suitable training
- Encouraging our suppliers to develop environmentally superior processes and products that will improve overall environmental performance
